

ESSM and EFS Exams Preparation Courses

- ▶ Fellow of the European Committee on Sexual Medicine (FECSM)
- ▶ EFS/ESSM Qualified Psycho/Sexologist

EFS/ESSM will offer examination preparation courses for those intending to take the examination in February 2018.

The courses are intended for physicians with experience of specialist-level practice in Sexual Medicine who wish to increase their chance of passing the MJCSM exam and for psychologists who intend to apply for the EFS/ESSM qualification exam for Psycho-Sexologists.

Preparation courses of 3 days are being planned from 25 January to 27 February 2018; these will provide an overview of all subjects in the MJCSM curriculum of Sexual Medicine that may be included in the examination and an overview of the content of the syllabus for clinical sexologists. Furthermore, advice about exam skills and practice in completing Sexual Medicine MCQ's will be given.

The teaching faculty for the courses will include recognised experts in the field of Sexual Medicine.

The location and specific dates will be published on the ESSM website.

CME Accreditation

Application will be made for CME recognition for these courses and the exam so that participants may gain CME credits.

Further details available on the ESSM website:

www.essm.org

ESSM

European Society for Sexual Medicine

The Examination in Sexual Medicine

under the auspices of the UEMS and the

ESSM Examination Preparation Courses 2018

www.essm.org

The Multidisciplinary Joint Committee on Sexual Medicine (MJCSM)

The Committee was established by the UEMS specialist sections of Urology, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, and Psychiatry, and functions, within the framework of their respective statutes and bylaws. Its principle objective is to guarantee and promote the highest standards of healthcare in the field of Sexual Medicine, by ensuring that training in Sexual Medicine in Europe is established at an optimal level.

The MJCSM determines the standards for training and assessment in Sexual medicine.

The next examination of the MJCSM will take place in Lisbon prior to the ISSM-ESSM congress in February 2018.

Eligibility

The exam is set under the auspices of the UEMS but physicians of all nationalities, including countries outside the EU, are allowed to take the exam.

Examination format

The exam duration will be 3 hours and will include 100 MCQ's in 5 domains of Sexual Medicine.

Who can apply?

Only registered medical practitioners, who are accredited as medical specialists in their country of practice, or who are General Practitioners with more than 5 years' clinical experience of unsupervised independent practice, are eligible to apply. Candidates need to fill out their cases in the logbook available at the MJCSM website. Two letters of recommendations should be provided.

Information and an application form are available on the MJCSM website:

www.mjcsm.org

The contents will be according to the curriculum of Sexual Medicine defined by the MJCSM. The content has also been described in an ESSM publication, The Manual of Sexual Medicine by the ESSM Educational Committee.

2nd Updated Edition 2015, Editors:

Y. Reisman, H. Porst, L. Lowenstein, F. Tripodi, P.S. Kirana
ISBN/EAN: 978-97-91487-02-06

Exam date:	28 February 2018
Location:	Lisbon, Portugal
Application deadline:	1 November 2017
